Couple Of Apps I Use

The screenshot shows a Google Chrome browser window with the 'Apps' page open. The address bar displays 'chrome://apps'. The page features a grid of application icons, each with a label below it. The icons are arranged in three rows and six columns. The first row includes Web Store, Gmail, Google Drive, Google Calendar, Google Docs, and Google Sheets. The second row includes Google Forms, Google Maps, Google Hangouts, PDF Mergy, Google Slides, and Google Keep. The third row includes Google Search, YouTube, Outlook.com, OneDrive, Guitar Chords, and Chrome Remote Desktop. The browser's top bar shows the user's name 'Howell Silverman' and a profile picture. The bottom of the browser window displays the 'chrome' logo, the word 'Apps', and a 'Web Store' link with a small icon.

The screenshot displays the Gmail web interface. At the top, the Google logo and search bar are visible. Below the search bar, the Gmail logo and navigation icons are present. On the left side, there is a sidebar with a 'COMPOSE' button and a list of folders including 'Inbox (12,315)', 'Starred', 'Important', 'Chats', 'Sent Mail', 'Drafts (2)', 'All Mail', 'Categories', and 'Circles'. The main area shows a list of emails under the 'Important' tab. Three emails are selected, and a 'Multi-forward' dialog box is open over them. The dialog box contains the text 'Multi-forward' and 'You have selected 3 mail(s) to forward. Please enter the recipients in the textbox below. To paste multiple recipients, just paste and hit Enter.' Below this text is a text input field with the placeholder 'Enter email recipients' and a 'Multi-Forward' button. The email list in the background includes details such as sender names (FiveStreet), subject lines (e.g., 'Realtor.com Lead: Priya priyadedhia@hotmail.com'), and timestamps.

The screenshot shows the Adobe Acrobat DC website. At the top right, there are navigation links: MENU, SEARCH, SIGN IN, and Adobe. Below these, there are links for Overview, Acrobat, What's New, Learn & Support, Free Trial, and a prominent Buy Now button. The main content area features a large, colorful digital illustration with a central play button icon. The illustration includes various icons representing document management, cloud storage, and digital workflows. Text on the page reads: "What is Acrobat DC? Watch this overview of Acrobat DC and see how easily and efficiently you can create, edit, collect e-signatures and comments, send large files, and do so much more with your documents. (Watch, 3 min)". At the bottom left, it says "From Matthew Pizzi" and at the bottom right, "Image by Jonathan Petersen".

The image shows a promotional banner for the Foreceipt app. At the top left is the Foreceipt logo, which consists of a stylized green leaf with a white outline and a small white circle. To the right of the logo is the word "FORECEIPT" in a white, sans-serif font. Further right is a navigation menu with the following items: "HOME" (underlined), "FEATURES", "SCREENSHOTS", "TEAM", and "CONTACT". The background of the banner is a solid green color. On the left side, there is a white smartphone displaying the app's interface. The screen shows a list of receipts under the heading "My Receipts" for the month of May 2014. The receipts are sorted by merchant and include items like Boston Pizza, CST, Calvin Klein, Canada Post, Canadian Tire, and Cliffwood. A "VERIFIED" badge with a checkmark is visible next to the Canadian Tire receipt. At the bottom of the phone screen, there is a navigation bar with icons for Dashboard, Receipts, Add, Budget, and More. On the right side of the banner, there is a large white text area with the heading "Tired of managing your paper receipts?" and a paragraph of text: "Foreceipt is the easiest way to manage receipts on Google Drive directly from your iPhone. It's FREE and SECURE." Below this text are two white buttons with rounded corners. The first button has a smartphone icon and the text "Available on the App Store". The second button has a document icon and the text "One Receipt Migration".
